

f © P

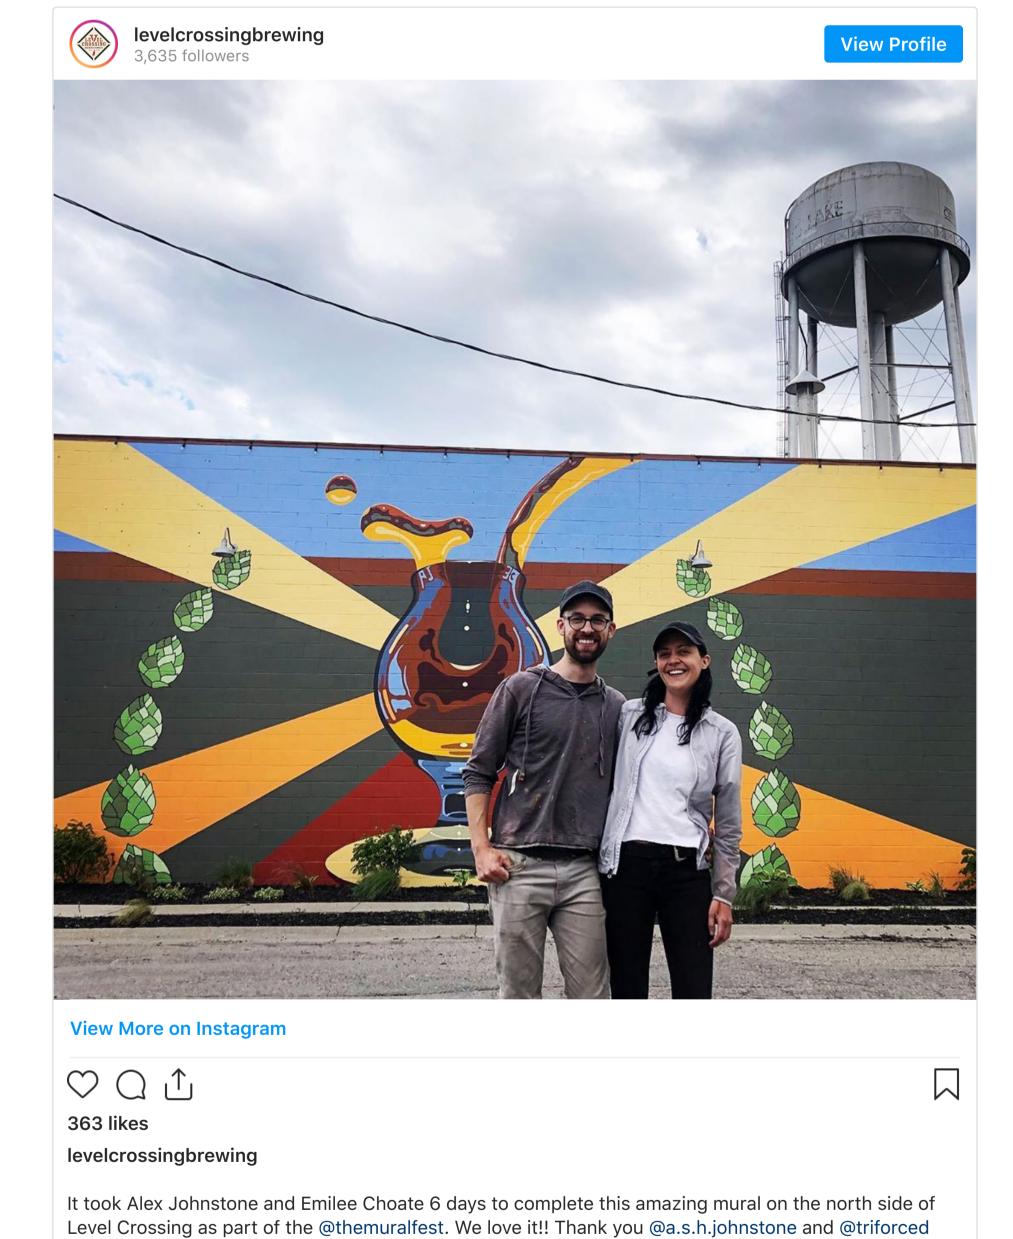

0

0

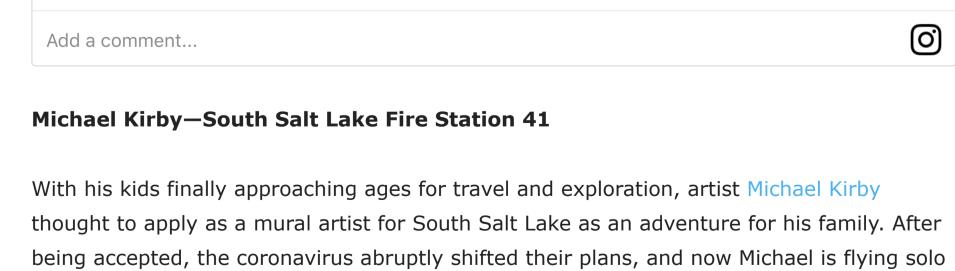

who owns Level Crossing we came up with a different concept that's more in line with what he is looking for." The new design carries a similar theme to that of the sunset mural inside the brewery, but in this is a large glass, and instead of containing an amber-colored beer, it appears to be filled with a continual flow of the molten, almost liquid metal-type futuristic medium.

from Baltimore to complete his project on the SSL Fire Station 41 building on Main Street. For his design, Michael will be interacting to gain insights from the crew and add in some view all 12 comments from their stories. This isn't his first firehouse mural either, with three under his belt in Baltimore, including a firefighter museum. With only a week to complete the project, Michael takes an old school approach when it comes to his artistry, sketching from hand, and as a resource likes to browse through real books at actual libraries. He avoids the use of digital illustration tools and doesn't rely on the use of a projector. Mike shares that, "Everyone has creativity and art is very simple, anyone can do it, but then again, not everybody can." He continues, "That skilled by-hand approach is still very important, you might not see it in the final product, but many can realize the guys who know how to draw and the guys that don't." southsaltlakearts 1,379 followers View Profile business Clever Octopus on 2250 S West Temple, a creative reuse center. cleveroctopus View Profile Clever Octopus

This team of local artists, Isaac and Evan Jed collaborated both of their styles to create the almost and cosmic Aztec bright background with a pink and blue water buffalo in the center. It's an incredibly bright and wonderful addition to the new to South Salt Lake

In progress, a mural designed and painted by artist Michael Kirby, Fire Station 41, 2600 S Main St.,

Isaac Hastings & Evan Jed Memmott—Clever Octopus

South Salt Lake

Add a comment...

Add a comment... Traci O'Very Covey—Mountainland Design With denim apron speckled with paint and sun hat on, Traci O'Very Covey is currently adding onto her existing mural at Mountainland Design on 2345 Main Street. Traci is a local that is well known for many extraordinary murals and metal sculptures around SLC. The trees, and open skies with floating fruit. As another most exciting new project, Traci was

View Profile

View Profile

mural follows an abstract yet recognizable theme of rolling hills, friendly faces, homes, chosen from over 400 artists to complete a 140-foot interior mural in the new SL Internation Airport expansion to be completed by the end of the summer.

those things the most. Artists @Ihsquared and @evanjed have began painting one on the Clever Here's a sneak peak of what is to come in participation with @themuralfest 2020.

view all 9 comments

themuralfest South Salt Lake, Utah

View More on Instagram

 \bigcirc \bigcirc \bigcirc themuralfest

25 likes backdrop.

themuralfest South Salt Lake, Utah

Traci O'Very Covey at work on her expansive mural at @mountainlanddesign @toverycovey @southsaltlake @southsaltlakearts @utahartsalliance PC @stanclawson 0 Add a comment... Chris Peterson His passion for fishing, the environment, and getting people to stop and think are some of the many reasons Chris chose to paint a mural which is nature-specific. As a Utah native and father to four daughters, he chose a more feminine, rainbow sherbet ice cream palette to create the ginormous open-mouthed brown trout racing after to swallow the frog. The new 140-foot long mural is along the north wall of the Cordin Building building on 2460 S

Main Street, and to keep with the business theme, a circuit board will be added to its the red rocks since the other mural depicted a mountain landscape. She explains, "I figured this would make both murals work together as a representation of the diverse landscape of Utah as a whole."

themuralfest

View Profile South Salt Lake, Utah Layton Ave [89] Grove Ave Hartwell Ave 15

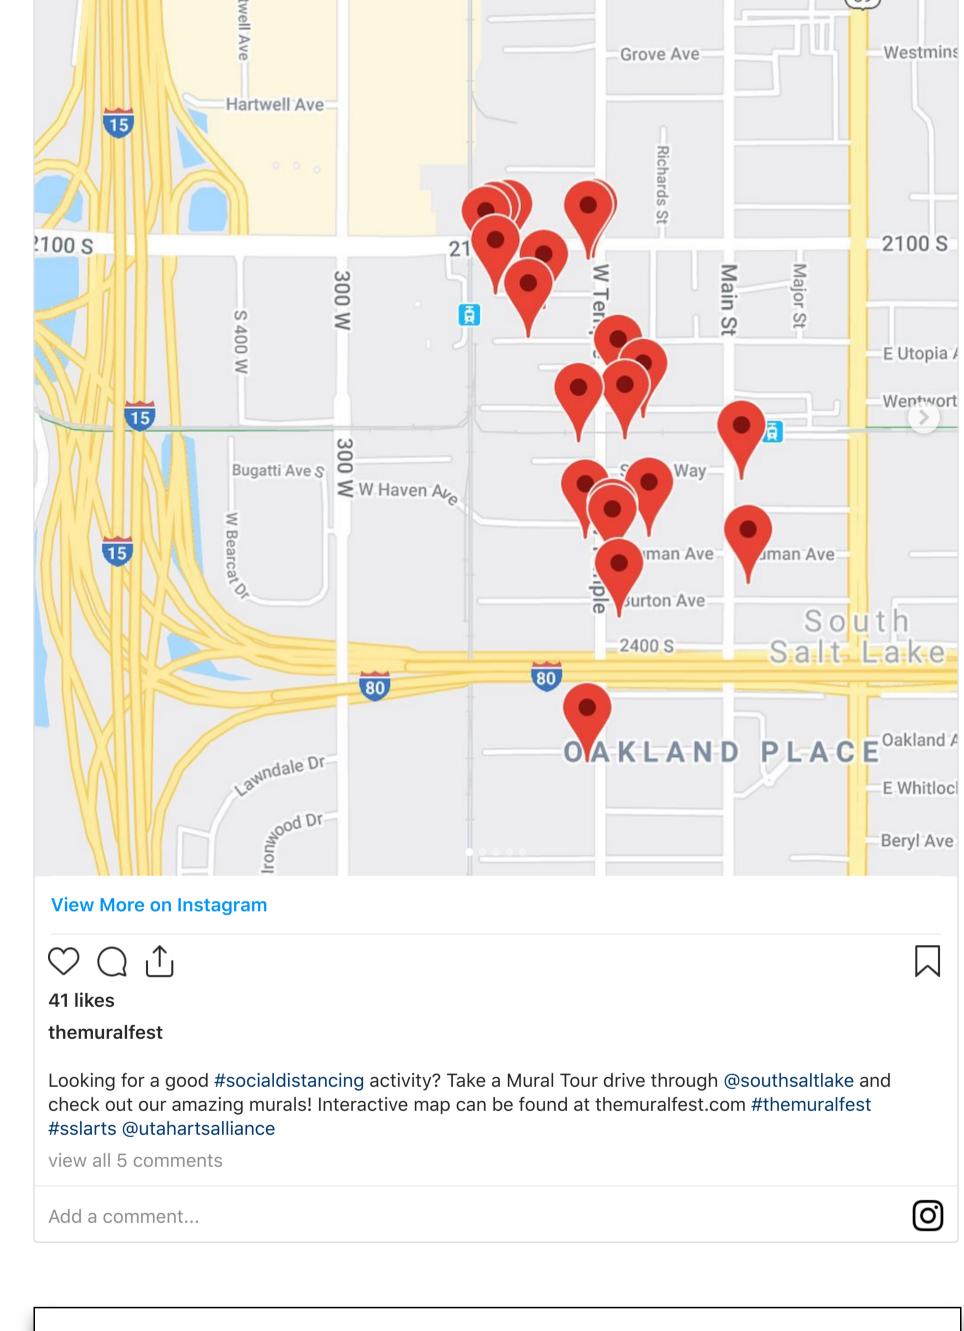

In coming up with a design for the HI Grade Apartment complex on 2150 S W Temple, Veronica Zac explains, "The thing a lot of people might not realize about being an artist for a living is that you're not usually painting or designing things for yourself. You're doing your best to come up with something that your client wants or that matches a brand aesthetic or fits a space well." In this case, Veronica chose to go with a complementary Utah scene of

in Spite of COVID-19

© 2019-2020 Copyright JES Publishing

< >

Readers trust Salt Lake magazine to be on the front lines of local fashion, trends and dining.

Advertise With Us Careers Contact Us Privacy Policy